KeyMACRO is an app that enables you to save your frequent keystrokes. It is used to automatically generate a macro function that will enable you to enter numbers, characters or programs with one single press. Saving the codes is very easy: just write the macro and then press 'Save', then choose the target microchip. Every time you press the generated macro function, KeyMACRO will evaluate the macro, enter the number, character, or program, and then it will open the appropriate target. KeyMACRO also saves the macro to the clipboard, so you can paste the code at any time. NIKOLAN is a useful language
